Attempt To Seize Control Of Tientsin Frustrated

JAPANESE IN CHINA CITY SEEK REFUGE

Chinese General Attempts Abortive Offensive as Bombs Explode in City

BOMBERS OVER CITY

Evacuation of Japanese in Peiping Looms as Mobs of Chinese Run Wild

TIENTSIN, May 20.—(UP)—Japanese residents barricaded themselves within their concession today as a series of bomb explosions swept the city.

The explosions came on the heels of an abortive attempt by troops of the Chinese general, Shin Fling-Ming, to seize control of the city. General Shin's troops retreated from the city after a sharp engagement with the police. They had hoped the police would join them in revolt.

Bombs exploded in the East railway station, at the bureau of public safety and in a theater.

Japanese troops operating outside the concession were reported disarming the Chinese police, and Chinese gunmen were said to be firing indiscriminately in the streets, hoping to create disturbances that would precipitate the overthrow of municipal authorities.

JAP EVACUATION IN PEIPING LOOMING

PEIPING, May 20.—(UP)—Evacuation of 1000 Japanese from their homes in sections of North China not now under Japanese military dominance, to the Peiping legion quarter, may be necessary to save them from the fury of Chinese mobs, the Japanese legion announced.

While 11 Japanese bombers flying in formations circled Peiping, an unidentified Chinese wielding a "big sword" attacked the sentinel in front of the Japanese legation barracks.

The Japanese military announced that the attack had precipitated a grave situation. The legation then made its announcement that general evacuation of Japanese residents was being considered.

The Japanese airplanes circled Peiping repeatedly, flying so low that the eight bombs attached to the lower wing of each, and the machine guns in the cockpits, were clearly visible.

Hundreds of Chinese piled into dugouts. No bombs were dropped.

MRS. PERKINS TELLS HOW TO GET PLACES

WASHINGTON, May 20.—(UP)—Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins today urged workers seeking jobs at the Tennessee Valley-Muscle Shoals development project or on other federal public works to disregard commercial employment agencies and apply for placement at federal, state and municipal organizations.

She said that her department had received information indicating that throughout the country so-called "employment registers" or "agencies" were being set up "for the alleged purpose of assisting persons to secure positions on Muscle Shoals and other proposed relief projects of the government."

She said all jobs would be filled free of cost through regular federal, state and municipal agencies designated by the government.

HORSE RACING TRACK AT SEAL BEACH PLANNED

Supervisors Will Be Asked for Permit for Project at Next Meeting

ESTABLISHMENT OF A $250,000 horse racing track is planned at Seal Beach and petitions signed by Seal Beach residents asking the Orange county board of supervisors to issue a permit for the project will be submitted next Tuesday, it was learned today.

A committee consisting of W. D. Miller, banker; Ralph Paddock, representing the American Legion, and Mayor E. J. Hughes and appointed by C. Bond Harpole, president of the Seal Beach Chamber of Commerce, is circulating the petitions.

Two sites are under consideration by the promoters, Col. John Burger, of Hollywood, and Herbert Wolfe, of Los Angeles. One is inside the city limits and the other is just outside the city limits, both sites being a part of the Hellman ranch.

According to Miller, Burger is financially interested in the Bowie track near Baltimore and another horse racing project near Toronto, Canada.

It is proposed to purchase 240 acres of land and to establish a high class track, according to Miller.

Plans of the racing men include two 50-day racing periods for fall and spring. The name chosen is the Seal Beach Jockey club.

According to word given Miller, construction work will get underway as soon as supervisors issue a permit, with between 300 and 400 men employed in the building operations.

PRESIDENT NOT TO ATTEND CONFERENCE

SACRAMENTO, Calif., May 20.—(UP)—President Roosevelt will be unable to attend the national governor's conference here in July, Governor Ralph announced following a telephone conversation with the president.

Governor Ralph called the nation's chief executive on long distance telephone last night and extended a personal invitation to attend the conference.

The president told him he would be unable to be present but would send a representative, Governor Ralph said.

PICKETS IN MILK STRIKE BACK HOME

WASHINGTON, May 20.—(UP)—The last pickets in Wisconsin's milk strike went back to their farms today, still without work from their leader, Walter Singer.

The 15,000 farmers who, a week ago, left their land to join the most serious agricultural rebellion in the state's history returned from picket camps believing that they were victorious in the strike. More than 5000 deputies also returned to their homes, equally confident that they had been successful in subduing the strike.

Singer was reported en route here from New York.

MRS. PINCHOT URGES MINIMUM SALARIES

MILFORD, Pa., May 20.—(UP)—Mrs. Gifford Pinchot, wife of the governor of Pennsylvania, said today that "until sweatshops are abolished, the state may expect no return to prosperity."

"The state must set up a minimum wage law," she said, "to protect the purchasing power of the workers."

Today Is Sixth Anniversary Lindy's Flight

NEW YORK, May 20.—(UP)—Six years ago today Col. Charles A. Lindbergh took off from Roosevelt field on the most famous flight in the annals of aviation—his 3600-mile solo transatlantic trip to Le Bourget field, Paris.

He landed 33 hours and 30 minutes later.

He planned no special observance of the anniversary.

U.S. DELEGATES TO CONFERENCE BEING CHOSEN

Senator Johnson, Rep. McReynolds, Owen Young Are Mentioned

WASHINGTON, May 20.—(UP)—President Roosevelt was moving today to complete quickly the American delegation to the world economic conference, with Senator Johnson, Rep. McReynolds, and Chairman McReynolds of the House Foreign Affairs committee regarded as likely appointees.

The name of Owen D. Young, noted financier and experienced in international financial negotiations as author of the Young plan of reparations payments, arose prominently in unofficial discussions.

Sources close to the White House, however, said no decision had been reached and that the "chances were against" his selection.

Four places on the delegation of seven are open. Those already named are Secretary of State Hull, Chairman Pittman of the Senate Foreign Relations committee, and former Governor James M. Cox of Ohio. Hull and Pittman discussed the make-up of the delegation with the president last night and it was agreed that one of the remaining four would be a Republican.

Johnson was considered a probable choice for the Republican place, although some of his colleagues in the senate doubted he would accept. The senator is one of the most forthright foes of war debt revision in congress.

BONUS ARMY TODAY IS BREAKING CAMP

WASHINGTON, May 20.—(UP)—The Bonus army was dissolving today as destitute veterans of the khaki clad regiments of 1918 rushed to the colors of Uncle Sam's 1933 force of overalled forestry workers.

Nearly 1500 enrolled in the forestry corps yesterday while discouraged leaders mustered a bare 500 to parade to the White House and Capitol. Government officials predicted most of the 3000 bonus marchers encamped at Fort Hunt would enlist before the Monday deadline. At noon that day the fort will become a conditioning camp for the forestry recruits and "on your way" will be the order for all who have not enrolled.

Singer was reported en route here from New York.

MARRIMAN RESIGNS AS INVESTIGATOR

WASHINGTON, May 20.—(UP)—John Marriman has resigned as special investigator for the senate banking committee just three days before the opening of its inquiry which will lay bare the secret operations of J. P. Morgan & Co.

Marriman has been assisting Ferdinand Pecora, committee counsel, in going over the books of the Morgan company and other private banks whose affairs are to be investigated at public hearings beginning next Tuesday. J. P. Morgan himself has been subpoenaed as the first witness.

Mrs. Roosevelt is going to Virginia next week to learn how farm women are working to help pay off mortgages and keep their children in school.

She is to be the luncheon guest at the home of Mrs. Florence E. Ward, head of the department of agriculture's eastern extension service. With her will go some 150 or 200 women of the District of Columbia Federation of Women's clubs. Mrs. Henry A. Wallace, wife of the secretary of agriculture, also will be there.

Mrs. Roosevelt is spending this week end in New York and Groton, Mass., and is expected back here Tuesday.

SIX IMPORTANT BILLS BEFORE U. S. CONGRESS

Twenty Legislative Days Remain in Which to End Labors at Capital

WASHINGTON, May 20.—(UP)—Twenty legislative days away from the adjournment deadline drawn by President Roosevelt congressional leaders contemplated today the possible necessity of jettisoning one or two administration bills to complete the session on time.

The St. Lawrence waterway treaty and a plan to ask for war debt revision authority already have gone overboard. To complete the remaining schedule of legislation by June 10, congress must pass important bills at the rate of one every three days.

Six major bills are pending. They are:

Glass bank reform; industry control and public works; railway reorganization; blue sky securities bill; home owners loan bill; oil industry bill.

Of doubtful status is the tariff bill, which may be posed to congress in a message asking that Mr. Roosevelt be given power to negotiate final reciprocal agreements. Such a request would provoke prolonged debate.

The Glass banking reform and deposit insurance bill is in the weakest position of any of the major pending measures. Experienced observers are inclined to believe the senate will pass the bill.

Several minor bills and the arms embargo resolution are awaiting final consideration and approval, and the independent offices bill, appropriating almost $550,000,000, is on the senate calendar. A third deficiency bill likewise must be approved.

There is a large field of dispute in the emergency railway reorganization bill.

More bitterly contested will be the revenue features of the $3,300,000,000 public works program authorized in the second section of the industry control bill. In regulation of industry itself there is promise of a long battle.

LAGUARDIA BREAKS WITH REPUBLICANS

NEW YORK, May 20.—(UP)—Florrie La Guardia, fiery former congresswoman and foe of Tammany Hall, broke with the regular republican organization today and became a leading candidate for the fusion mayoralty nomination in the wake of the withdrawal of Samuel Seabury.

As a result of his inquiry into municipal affairs—an investigation that resulted in the resignation of Mayor James J. Walker, Seabury had been considered a logical fusion candidate. Alfred E. Smith and former Acting Mayor Joseph V. McKee, both had declined to run.

Seabury recalled, however, that he promised never to make political capital of his inquisitorial post and said, "My position in this respect will never change."

LYNN, Mass., May 20.—(UP)—The management of the United Sportswear Company, which went through the depression without a wage cut, today announced a 15 per cent wage increase for its 500 employees.

MRS. ROOSEVELT TO VISIT IN VIRGINIA

WASHINGTON, May 20.—(UP)—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt is going to Virginia next week to learn how farm women are working to help pay off mortgages and keep their children in school.

She is to be the luncheon guest at the home of Mrs. Florence E. Ward, head of the department of agriculture's eastern extension service. With her will go some 150 or 200 women of the District of Columbia Federation of Women's clubs.

Letter Sent To Heads Of Committee

Immediate Attention Asked on Legislation Affecting Industry

WASHINGTON, May 20.—(UP)—President Roosevelt today requested committee of the House and Senate to give immediate attention to legislation affecting the control of oil production.

The president transmitted his views to congress in a letter addressed to the vice president and the speaker of the house.

Rep. Marland, Dem., Okla., and Senator Capper, Rep., Kan., introduced the administration's oil bill in congress yesterday.

"As the congress is doubtless aware, a serious situation confronts the oil industry," Mr. Roosevelt said in his letter. "Because oil taken from the ground is a natural resource which once used cannot be replaced, it is of interest to the nation that its production should be under reasonable control for the best interest of the present and future generations."

"My administration for many weeks has been in conference with the governors of the oil producing states and with component parts of the industry but it seems difficult, if not impossible, to bring order out of chaos only by state action. In fact, this is recognized by most of the governors concerned.

Several minor bills and the arms embargo resolution are awaiting final consideration and approval, and the independent offices bill, appropriating almost $550,000,000, is on the senate calendar. A third deficiency bill likewise must be approved.

There is a widespread demand for federal legislation. May I request that this subject be given immediate attention by the appropriate committee or committee?

The secretary of the interior stands ready to present any information or data desired.

"May I suggest further that in order to save the time of the special session it might be possible to incorporate action relating to the oil industry with whatever action congress decides to take in regard to other industries, that consideration could be given at the same time that action is taken on the bills already introduced and now pending in committee.

"The American Woolen Company, with 6300 employees; the Arlington Mills, with 5000; and the Woolen department of the Pacific Mills, with 1700, announced the upward revisions.

Three of Peterson's shipmates, Revell K. Covington, William Kozak, and Robert Barnett, acquitted on the murder charge, were found guilty with Peterson of robbery, however. They will be sentenced Tuesday.

Twenty-two nominees representing the "dry" and a like number of "wet" candidates, 20 to be chosen by congressional districts and two "at large" will seek election. Successful candidates will cast the ballot to determine California's approval or disapproval of the national prohibition law.

GRANTS DIVORCE AND ANNULMENT

Alleging that two days after their marriage in New York City she discovered that her husband had a former wife living from whom he was not divorced, Mrs. Helen Beecroft was given an annulment of her marriage to John Robert Beecroft. The decree was handed down by Superior Judge H. G. Ames.

As exhibits in the case Mrs. Beecroft introduced a picture of the minister who married them and a copy of the marriage service. She also introduced a copy of the final decree of divorce awarded her husband from his former wife.

The decree had been awarded in Zurich, Switzerland, on March 2, 1931, but did not become valid until June 4, 1931. The Beecrofts were married May 16, 1931 and separated two days later.

Mrs. Wilma Smith of Santa Ana was awarded an interlocutory decree of divorce from Alan M. Smith of Santa Ana by Superior Judge James L. Allen. Mrs. Smith alleged desertion and testified that they were married September 1, 1931 and separated on December 28, of the same year.

Radio Singer At Christian Church Sunday Evening

ORANGE, May 20.—Guest singer at Sunday evening services at First Christian church will be Ralph McCutcheon, a tenor soloist, who sings daily over radio stations KHJ and KMTK, it was announced today by the Rev. Franklin H. Minck.

Mr. McCutcheon will give four solos, one of which, "How Beautiful the Mountain," was sung here several years ago on a previous appearance, and has been named as a request number for Sunday evening. Speaker for the evening will be a surprise pastor who has never given a Sunday sermon here. It was stated.

A new summer schedule will be started during Sunday school services, with children urged to attend barefooted as participants in "A Barefoot Brigade" to be continued during the summer session.

Auxiliary, Club Luncheon May 22

ORANGE, May 20.—American Legion Auxiliary and Mother's club will join in having a covered-dish luncheon Monday noon in Legion hall honoring those having birthdays in May. The Mother's club will have a business and sewing session in the morning, with the president, Mrs. Henrietta McCarty, presiding over the former.

Auxiliary members will hold their business meeting at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. Mrs. Dolores Goodwin, president, will be in charge.

FIRE EXTINGUISHED
ORANGE, May 20.—Catching fire Thursday afternoon, trash on the proposed park site on South Glassell street smoldered all day Friday, with firemen and men employed on the R. F. C. project working several hours to put it out. Workmen were busy burning off brush on the site when they found that the blaze had spread to what was formerly a dumping ground.

CITY STARTS CAMPAIGN TO DRIVE OUT RATS

A concentrated and thorough drive to rid the downtown business section of rodents will start in Santa Ana Monday, it was announced today by City Engineer J. L. McBride.

A crew of 12 local men will be put to work in a systematic cleanup of every block in the business section of the city. The work will be done as one of the unemployment relief projects in the city with money from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation fund for that purpose. The project has been approved by R. F. C. officials in Sacramento.

E. E. Frisby, county health inspector who is in charge of this territory, will be in direct charge of the rodent control program.

Unlike the Pled Piper of Hamilton, the local rodent killers will lure rats and mice to their death by using poisons and traps. Every basement, attic and floor of each building will be checked.

If time allows, the crew will invade the residential sections of the city in the drive to rid the city of rats. With the consent of property owners, houses will be cleaned out, as well as other buildings.

Particular attention will be paid to the known havens of rats, which have a fondness for making their homes and building their nests under the hanging branches of palm trees where they breed in large numbers.

The council went on record to instruct the city attorney to draft an amendment to the city ordinance making it sure that hand made red tile roofs be placed on all structures. This followed complaint that reservoir No. 2 is unsightly. The city engineer and Virgil Westbrook were instructed to get an estimate on roofing the reservoir.

City Attorney Den Acres ruled that the request of the Business Men's association that no license for the sale of beer be permitted unless the applicant had been in business in the city for one year could not be granted for constitutional reasons and cited decisions.

City Clerk Holmes was instructed to write a letter of thanks to Police Chief James S. Yancy of Long Beach and to the San Clemente Boy Scouts troop for their assistance in the handling of the traffic situation due to the collapse of Mayor Murphy's residence. The council expressed sympathy formally to the mayor and his wife.

A resolution was adopted accepting $151.55 from the state out of the $50,000 emergency earthquake damage road fund.

Ask For Gas Fund

A resolution was adopted calling upon the board of supervisors to distribute the county's gasoline tax fund, estimated at $222,000, to the cities on the basis of $215 per mile for each of the 500 miles within incorporated cities in the county.

Mr. Murphy rose to a question of personal privilege and thanked the citizens for attending the meeting in such large numbers and showing an interest in civic affairs. He said the impression had gone abroad, because a member of the council, Earl Von Bon Horst, was engaged in the sale of the legal beverage, "that they were engaged in racketeering and bootlegging." He asked if Councilman Cotton wished to make a statement.

Cotton in Statement

The resigned councilman was in the rear of the room and walked forward to the council table. He said that a year and a half ago he had been asked to serve on the council and at the time he felt that his own interests were adverse to his serving, but he stood for the appointment. He said he is not a week around citizen. During the past few weeks there seemed to be dissatisfaction with the functions of the city officers and this situation became acute 10 days ago. He asked the mayor to call an informal meeting of the council last Saturday and made a statement that part of the trouble had been the fact that the police commissioner, Van Bon Horst, was a wholesale distributor of beer and that he thought the councilman should resign as police commissioner and take up some other duty on the council. He declared that Van Bon Horst said he would not do that under fire. He said then suggested that it would be best for all of the councilmen to resign and choose a new council, but that Mayor Murphy and Councilman Robertson did not agree to that and he submitted his resignation.

Following Cotton's statement and resignation, Murphy declared that Cotton had proposed to the members to resign and let the Hansons run it as they wanted to. This was the reason for Cotton's resignation as Murphy put it up. Murphy came evidently prepared, for he read an affidavit making this accusation against Cotton.

Affidavit Incorrect

Cotton, at the close of the reading of the affidavit, in which affidavit was a declaration that he (Cotton) "would consider it a wise move for each member of the city council to resign and allow the Hansons to run the city as they were evidently trying to do," immediately got to his feet, and given the privilege of the floor, again declared that the affidavit was not correct, that he had not made this declaration concerning Han-

CHIEF COMBER SUSPENDED BY CITY COUNCIL PENDING TRIAL; SMITH TAKES COTTON'S PLACE

Suspension of Chief of Police Harry Comber pending trial, acceptance of the resignation of City Council Hamilton H. Cotton and appointment of A. T. Smith as his successor featured a meeting of the San Clemente city council last night. The city chambers were jammed with interested citizens.

Chief Comber must stand trial, he declared that beer sale is the same to the city council as the sale of milk, or coca cola or gasoline. He declared there was no objection to a man selling beer, and being a member of the city council and distributing it, and controlling its sale, than there was to selling gasoline, and he mentioned Councilman Robertson as an illustration.

Resignation Accepted

The resignation of Councilman Cotton was read by City Clerk William Holmes and Councilman Robertson moved that it be accepted. It was passed unanimously. Councilman Plume then moved that the resignation be accepted with regret and that a suitable resolution be drafted to express that sentiment. This was greeted with applause and was carried.

On motion of Councilman Robertson, A. T. Smith was appointed to fill the vacancy and he was sworn in by City Judge Warner and took his seat at the council table after declaring his appreciation and that his hands were unfettered.

With the petition for probate was filed a copy of a will signed by Mrs. Dwyer and dated July 27, 1928 in which she made bequests totalling $22,500 and leaving the rest of her personal property to her husband, in addition to the income from real property owned by her. Following the death of her husband the real property, or if he had sold it, the principal held in trust, was to be given to some benevolent cause, preferably for the benefit of children.

Under the will Etta Lautenbach of Ventura, Mary Mauerhan, Los Angeles, William Schumacher of Ventura, and Francis Scott, Anaheim, relatives, are to receive $4,000 each; Jack and Madeline Mauerhan of Los Angeles are to receive $1,000 each and $500 was willed to Mrs. Mattie Gates of Anaheim; $1,000 was left to a cousin, Mrs. Marie Hagemann, now deceased, and her son Henry F. Hagemann of Los Angeles.

Three childhood friends, Clara Moseman, her sister Louise Lewis and Mrs. Emma Cole were left $500 each "in loving remembrance." A $1,000 Southern Counties Gas Company stock certificate was bequeathed to Mrs. Mary Evans and $500 left to St. Michael's Church.

Death Notices

A WORD OF COMFORT

Happiness abides only in a contented heart. Contentment does not involve external satisfaction; divorce from an affection; it accompanies the habit or rejoicing that you have a service to render and that what you are becoming makes a difference to God and to the world.

Drink deep of the joys to be found from day to day amid the routine life instead of living in a fatuous expectation that when happiness comes for worldly success when have been fulfilled.

Even amid your grief, magnify your blessings rather than your unsatisfied yearnings.

ALLEN—May 19, 1933, at his home, 616 North Van Ness street, Santa Ana; George M. Allen, age 81 years. He was survived by his wife, Mrs. Annie Allen; one daughter, Miss B. Agnes Allen, Santa Ana; one son, John H. Allen, of Oxnard, and one brother-in-law, Joseph T. Muir, of Long Beach. Funeral services will be held Monday, May 22, 1933, at 2 p.m. at the Harrell and Brown Funeral home, 116 West Seventeenth street, the Rev. Herman J. Powell officiating. Embalming in Melville Abbey, Mausoleum.

Court Notes

J. Roy Smith has filed suit in superior court demanding judgment against Charles E. Crumrine for $800 with interest at 7 per cent from January 20, this year. The complaint alleges that on January 20, 1932 Crumrine delivered to the State Bank of San Juan Capistrano, his promissory note for $800 maturing in three months. This note later was transferred to Smith who alleges that nothing has been paid on the principal sum and the interest is unpaid since January.

Mrs. Carl Wiesemann, 1024 North Olive street, was slightly injured in an automobile crash which happened yesterday afternoon when the car driven by Mrs. Wiesemann and one driven by G. S. Burris, 20, Santa Ana, collided at North Park boulevard and Benton Way, according to a report filed at the police station.

MANY PROMINENT GUESTS EXPECTED AT BIG DINNER EVENT HONORING OFFICERS

Featured by the presence of distinguished guests and a program of elaborate entertainment, what is expected to be the biggest meeting of the year will be held at Campi's, between Santa Ana and Anaheim, by the Orange County Peace Officers' Association the evening of June 7.

A seven course Italian dinner will be served at 6:30 p.m. to regular and associate members. A crowd of nearly 400 is expected to attend the dinner event, which will be held outdoors. The dinner is to be given by associate members for regular members.

Chief of Police Floyd W. Howard, Santa Ana, president of the association, announced today that Sheriff Eugene Biscalluz of Los Angeles county will speak. Roy E. Steckel, Los Angeles chief of police, will also be present at the meeting, as will Buron Fitts, Los Angeles district attorney. Raymond Cata, chief of the California Highway Patrol, has promised to be present as well, it was announced.

Two Governors

Governor James Rolph Jr., according to word received here, will attend the meeting if his program as scheduled now brings him to Southern California in time for the big event. The governor of Lower California, Aquintano Olacha, has expressed a desire to attend the function if he receives an invitation from Governor Rolph. Arrangements were made today to see Governor Rolph received the invitation.

Eugene Kahan, who is in charge of the program, announced today that Sid Grauman, noted showman and theater owner, has agreed to act as master of ceremonies if the opening of a new theater in Los Angeles does not make it impossible for him to be here.

At any rate, Grauman has agreed to send several high class vaudeville acts to Orange county to perform at the special meeting. An effort is being made also to secure from federal relief funds. The motion was seconded by Charles D. Overshiner, of Santa Ana, and adopted by the unanimous vote of the committee.

Seek Land Bank Funds

Appointment by the chairman of a committee to seek, through representatives in Washington of this district and California senators, as well as through other sources, to have restrictions on Federal Land Bank loans in Orange county lifted and secure for the county a fair share of land bank funds for the county, was authorized by a unanimous vote of the committee members.

Chairman J. G. Mitchell announced appointment of the following committee to contact Washington representatives: B. Z. McKinney, Santa Ana; D. G. Wettlin, Orange; and R. W. Ramsey of Anaheim.

Because of the wide interest in the meeting, it will be impossible to accept reservation after May 24, it was pointed out by Chief Howard. No exceptions will be made to this rule, he said.

SLANDER COMPLAINT FOLLOWS FILING OF DIVORCE ACTION

Following the filing of a divorce complaint against him several days ago by his wife Myrtle Whittaker, H. O. Whittaker, laborer for the state highway department was in superior court this morning charged with slander. His arraignment was set for next Friday before Superior Judge James Allen.

The slander complaint was signed by Mrs. Daisy C. Noland, also of Newport Beach, and accused Whittaker of saying that Mrs. Noland was operating a house of prostitution at her home in the beach city and that his estranged wife was an inmate of the resort.

In her divorce complaint Mrs. Whittaker also alleged that her husband, in spite of the fact that he was employed by the state had obtained help from the Unemployed Association of Newport Beach during representation that he was without work and his last trip to Santa Ana was taken to assist an aged widow neighbor in obtaining an old age pension.

School Organizer

For 50 years W. T. Newland has been prominent in Orange county affairs. He settled with his family on the present ranch home before Orange county was separated from Los Angeles county and aided in creating Orange county out of a part of Los Angeles county. He organized the first school district in Huntington Beach and in order to enroll a sufficient number of students in the district, he employed a man on his ranch who had nine children, moving the family from Wintersburg. He was a member of the first school board and served on school boards in the beach city elementary and high school district for 20 years or more. He was a member of the board that erected the present high school.

Mr. Newland also organized the first bank at Huntington Beach and was president for many years. His bank was known as the First National and was later merged with the Security Trust and Savings bank. He established the first newspaper in the community, moving the plant from Wintersburg and aided in financing and managing the paper for several years.

Aided Church

Untiring in his efforts to aid in the upbuilding of the community he joined with others in the building of the first church at Huntington Beach, and later was the largest contributor to the present Methodist church building, joining with his wife in donating a memorial window in the church.

He wrested much of the fine

Landmarks ranch from the tule swamps and drained and cultivated the land for nearly half a century. He joined in the promotion of the beet sugar plant at the beach city, the establishment of the railroads and beet dumps. Later he was the chief financial backer of the linoleum plant, now converted into a profitable producing oil lease.

Up to the day of his death he was active in public affairs. His good judgment and sound doctrine led to the seeking of his counsel in almost every public project of unusual importance, according to his friends. He was always active in politics and took a keen interest in all civic movements. He was one of the most popular men in the city, loved by all classes.

Married 58 Years

Mr. Newland was born in Adams county, Ill., near Camp Point, October 31, 1850. He was married to the wife, who survives him, 58 years ago. Ten children were born of the union, all of whom survive him. They are Mrs. Delphia McCayone, of Seattle; Mrs. P. Isenour, Miss Frances Newland, Mrs. Helen Tarbox, John Newland, all of Huntington Beach; W. T. Newland Jr., of Burma, India; C. C. Newland, of Glendale, Mrs. Jessie Thompson, of Allendale, Ariz.; Mrs. Jack Frost, of Long Beach.

Funeral will be held at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning from the Methodist church. The Rev. Coyne of Seal Beach, former pastor here, will conduct the services and will be assisted by the Rev. John Engle, pastor of the Methodist church here. Interment will be made in the old family grave located in the Yorba cemetery, it was announced.

YORBA FUNERAL TO BE HELD MONDAY

Funeral arrangements, including observation of the rites of the Roman Catholic church, for Mrs. Erlinda Costa Yorba, 81, a member of one of the Southland's oldest Spanish pioneer families, were completed today by Backs, Terry and Campbell, Anaheim funeral directors. Special services will be held Sunday at 8 p.m. at the funeral parlor, followed by a Mass at 10 a.m. Monday at the Yorba Catholic church. Interment will be made in the old family grave located in the Yorba cemetery, it was announced.

COURT FINES NEW TRIAL OF DEFENDANTS IN WATER WASTE HANDBILL CASE CASE DENIED

Charged with violation of a city ordinance regulating the distribution of hand bills and circulars in the city, three men pleaded guilty and a fourth entered a not guilty plea when they appeared before Judge J. G. Mitchell in city police court this morning.

The manager of the department store concerned in the case pleaded not guilty to the charge. Judge Mitchell gave him until Monday to decide whether or not a jury trial will be held.

George Johnson, 57, 1528 Dresser street, pleaded guilty to the charge and was fined $25 by Judge Mitchell. Johnson was the man who hired Charles S. Drake, 17, and Henry M. Stewart, 25, both of whom live at 219 1/2 East Twentieth street, to distribute the store advertising circulars, it was brought out this morning.

Both Drake and Stewart pleaded guilty to the charge. Stewart was fined $10 by Judge Mitchell, and Drake, because he is a minor, was turned over to juvenile authorities.

In court, Johnson admitted that he knew it was against the city ordinance to distribute the advertising circulars.

Warrants for the arrest of the four men were issued by Chief of Police Floyd W. Howard yesterday after Stewart and Drake had been picked up at 12:30 o'clock yesterday morning by officers who said they were throwing the circulars on front porches and lawns in violation of the city ordinance. The warrants were issued under instructions of City Attorney Clyde Downing.

When he husband still did not return Mrs. Newland sent her son, John, and daughter, Frances, to look for their father. He was found by his son a few hundred yards from the ranch house where he had fallen from a heart attack. Death had apparently been instantaneous and is thought to have occurred an hour or more before the body was found.

Mr. Newland had leased his entire farm and had not engaged in farming for the past three years. His health had been remarkably good, but his age caused the family to keep a close watch on him. He refused to consider himself an invalid and his last trip to Santa Ana was taken to assist an aged widow neighbor in obtaining an old age pension.

Plans have been completed for a special program to be presented tomorrow night at the evening service of the First Methodist church. The evening message will be delivered by Dr. George A. Warner, pastor and Bob Bradley will preside during the service.

The musical portion of the program will be presented by the High School Glee clubs of 60 voices under direction of Miss Theo. Schwager and accompanied at the piano by Miss Dorothy Gutzman. This group will present solos, trios, quartets, octets and ensemble numbers.

Special features to be presented during the evening will be whistling solos by Eloise Bradley, readings by Elbert Stewart, Ray Baker, composer, also will take part in the program.

- News Behind the News -

WASHINGTON
By Paul Mallon

What drove Mr. Roosevelt out of the inflation field back to new taxes and sound money was the team of Douglas and Woodin. They are named in the order of their importance.

While Woodin has the front office job of Treasury Secretary, the Budget Director Douglas has already established himself as the Warwick of this administration. You cannot get anything done without him.

Other budgeteers were ears on the subjects of lead pencil consumption and minor expense accounts. It was a trivial business. General Dawes once quit for that reason.

Douglas has been given the power to play a billion dollar game. He is playing it well.

Mr. Roosevelt has been calling Douglas into private sessions of the cabinet. He does not have a regular chair but he sits in the background and they ask him questions. He knows more about the intricacies of government finance than any of them.

In these meetings he and Woodin had the passive cooperation of State Secretary Hull for the sound money path. A majority of the cabinet unquestionably favors outright inflation.

The Douglas arguments were that inflation would hurt government credit, that it was not necessary and that a credit inflation would do just as well.

He is supposed to have had Mr. Roosevelt talk out of the public works bond issue program at one time. He and Woodin opposed it on the inside.

Their views were submitted confidentially by the President to certain congressmen. These men threw up their hands in horror. They whispered that you could not get this congress to adjourn without passing some direct re-employment measure. They were right about that. The public works plan was immediately put back on the program.

Gentlemen at the keyhole say Mr. Roosevelt played the monitor and the debate after that. He did not participate. He let the boys fight it out among themselves. That is why you are getting the fifty-fifty compromise now being offered. It has the sound money aspect demanded by Douglas and Woodin. Also the employment theories of the inflationists.

SALES TAX

The Democratic congressional leaders were practically unanimous against the sales tax in that private meeting recently with Mr. Roosevelt.

Speaker Rainey and Floor Leader Burns advised strongly against it. They said they would swallow their pride and put it through if the President demanded it but he would have to demand it before they would budge. They pointed out it would be very embarrassing for the 180 members of the House who voted against the sales tax last session.

They were joined also by Senator Pat Harrison. His state has a sales tax. He naturally wants that method reserved to the states. Only Senate Floor Leader Robinson was non-committal.

Such an outpouring of congressional opposition put a crimp in Budget Director Douglas. He is the one who thought up the sales tax idea. His confidential figures show a levy of 1.08 per cent would raise the $220,000,000 they need annually to amortize the public works bond issue.

The only thing the President insisted on was that the money should be raised with the least possible interference to business. He said no tax should be levied which would hinder the recovery in progress.

Nothing was said at the time but the congressional leaders got to thinking later about the President's assertion. The only way they could figure it out was that Mr. Roosevelt was speaking indirectly for the sales tax because all the other proposals are conceded to be hard on business.

They clearly realized then the sales tax idea was not as dead as everyone appeared to believe.

CONTROL

They have quietly thrown water on most of the dynamite in the Farm Bill.

The boys upstairs have decided only one of its features can be used soon. That is the one relating to marketing agreements. George Peck is working on that basis in his confidential preparations for administering the act.

The idea is to fix prices by pool understandings. The Chicago milk case is furnishing the basis on which they are working. A fixed price agreement was made between producers and dealers in that case. Its effect was limited because some dealers refused to go in with it. With the Farm bill powers, Peck can bludgeon the wayward boys into line by making them get a federal license.

That fits in the Roosevelt industrial picture.

They will probably get around to the processors' tax in time to handle the next winter wheat crop.

It is too late now to interfere with spring planting of most crops. The farmers might be persuaded to plough up what already is growing but that is a lot to ask. It would be about the same as to ask a builder to tear down what he has already built on the prospect that he might get a better price if he should put it up again.

MEANS

Those who moved on the inside of the Gaston Means case shed a tear at Gaston's Lindbergh kidnapping story. The yarn he told was hard to believe, even if someone else had told it. Unquestionably he has been losing his precarious position of any Euro-fineness since the palmy days of Harry Daugherty investigation. Then his stories usually stood up well for a year or two before being disproved.

A few years back his book "The Strange Death of President Harding" (the one incriminating Mrs. Harding poisoned the President) lasted ten months before his ghost author announced she had reluctantly come to the conclusion he was a liar.

In this case it was obvious to the court Means is no longer the liar he used to be.

NOTES

Mr. Roosevelt is privately planning to go away on his vacation about August 1. He will be lucky if he gets away at all.

Congressman Blanton is establishing a reputation for maintaining orderly procedure in the House this session. . . . He is the watchdog of the rule book, always making points of order against improper legislation.

His batting average is high. . . . Tongues are wagging about a break between Col. House and Mr. Roosevelt because the Colonel has not been to the White House. . . .

The truth appears to be that House is still 100 per cent for Mr. Roosevelt since the inflation program was sidetracked. . . . Friends of House explain he has declined Mr. Roosevelt's invitation because of the heat, although it is not hot here yet, meteorologically speaking. . . . An explanation of that may be the fact that his health has not recently been good.

TARIFFS

Inner circles report that Norman Davie had instructions to work on the organizing committee of the World Economic Conference for a tariff truce to run for the duration. His hasty retreat from sponsorship was due to sharp hostilities aroused by the idea.

The German Ambassador held firmly that going beyond organization work was not the Committee's job. Who was to stop quick raises before the truce got working? England was backed by the others in stalling. They made it clear that a truce will be fine when all the dirty work is done and there is nothing left to fight for.

Canadian bankers here list the Roosevelt-Bennett talks as covering for reciprocity—U. S. Motor cars, chemicals, machinery, electrical equipment. Canada: Coal, fish, timber, cattle.

PEACE

There are considerable doubts here whether Pres. Roosevelt's inspiring plan will have much effect on the hard-boiled statesmen who will sit at Geneva. But there is unanimous agreement that it was a noble try.

The inside dope has it that England and Germany staged a lively diplomatic battle for Italy's support on the German rearmament controversy. England won by making it clear to Mussolini that he could not afford to buck world opinion. Also there were whispers of an embargo against Germany and any allies she might pick up if overt acts were committed.

WAR

The best opinion in informed quarters holds that the war threat has faded to a whisper—at least temporarily. Germany would be counting certain disaster to try rough stuff without Italian support and Mussolini has been deftly transformed into a peace angel. It may not last but that's the set up now.

There is active pressure from important local sources for a five hundred million dollar fund to stabilize foreign exchange. New Yorkers who are urging the plan claim it would be a valuable weapon to lay on the Economic Conference table.

FRANCE

Inside word from French political circles indicates that Chailly and Herriot will probably form the next government. Herriot's radical socialists would form the nucleus of a new concentration toward the Center. The socialists would be on the outside looking in.

Local banks get word from France that fear of a peasant reaction is doing more to keep France on the gold standard than anything else. The peasants remember what happened to the hoarded francs last time and may make serious trouble if it happens again.

GERMANY

The first Nazi thrust against Ambassador Luther was made at a supposedly secret meeting of the party's executive committee in Munich. A prominent member proposed to demand an accounting for seven hundred million marks which Luther paid to big business in the Ruhr district in 1924 "for damages suffered through the French invasion." No one but Luther knows how the money was spent.

Hitler never forgot his friends or enemies. Former Lord Mayor Lupp of Nuremberg—well known in America—occupies the same cell in the Landsberg jail in which Adolf himself languished in 1924. Hitler swore he would put him there when Lupp spoiled one of his colorful parades a few years ago by calling out the police.

They will probably get around to the processors' tax in time to handle the next winter wheat crop.

PASTOR SPEAKS ON UNSHAKABLE TRUTHS SUNDAY

INSTALLATION CONDUCTED FOR NEW OFFICERS OF EBELL CLUB; MRS. FLOYD ANNIN, PRESIDENT

FULLERTON, May 20.—At a beautiful and impressive ceremony, officers of Fullerton Ebell club for 1933-34 were installed yesterday afternoon at the last regular meeting of the year. Mrs. Albert Launer, member of the club, and who is acting as parliamentarian this year, was installing officer. She is this year editor of the Federation paper which will be published from Southern District headquarters in Fullerton.

Mrs. Floyd Annin was installed president. Mrs. Gus Leander, vice president; Mrs. R. D. Stone, second vice president; Mrs. Arthur W. Chaffee, recording secretary; Mrs. Graham Hodges, corresponding secretary; Mrs. William B. Wade, financial secretary; Mrs. Thomas Taylor, treasurer; Mrs. Launer, parliamentarian; Mrs. J. A. Vye, historian; Mrs. W. E. Tripp, curator; and Mrs. G. H. Sattler and Mrs. H. O. Easton, directors.

Mrs. Sattler, retiring president, and her officers presented the new officers with corsages, prepared and presented by Mrs. Daisy Reese, general section chairman.

These new officers will take their places after July 1. The last meeting of the year is to be a picnic at Hillcrest park June 1. After that several section meetings will be held.

The program yesterday was presented through a group of women from the American Legion auxiliary post. Mrs. R. E. Seaman and her daughter, June, assisted by Miss Charlotte Davis, pianist, and Mrs. Block, vocalist, presented a skirt uniting reasons for holding poppy day sales. Mrs. A. Olsen, of the state department, in charge of poppy day sales, urged that all wear poppies on the week of May 26 to 30 in memory of those who have fallen in France as well as the disabled veterans of the World war who are earning a little each year by making the poppies.

Mrs. Sattler and all her committee chairman and department heads made interesting reports of the year's work. Announcements of future section meetings include a picnic Friday, May 26, of the Home Economics section at Anaheim park. Mrs. J. J. Alexander is to entertain the members and their husbands of the drama soon at the Presbyterian church, will be held.

Eastside circle will be in charge of music; Westside circle in charge of readings, and the Kingdom Builders will present a play, while the Sunshine circle will serve tea.

Friday the Westside circle will hold the final tea and program of the year at the home of Mrs. J. L. Batchman at 432 West Brookdale avenue. Hostesses to assist Mrs. Batchman are Mrs. Carrie Switzer, Mrs. Corcoran, Mrs. R. W. Morgan. At 6:30 p. m., Friday, the Homebuilders class will have a pot luck supper at the church basement, where Mr. and Mrs. Carl Erdman and Mr. and Mrs. Orton Jencks will be in charge of the entertainment, and Mr. and Mrs. Coy Long, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Lemon, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Everhart and Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Weis will be in charge of the supper and reception.

At a beautifully appointed tea table, with Mrs. Whitaker and Mrs. Tripp pouring, refreshments were served at the short social hour. Assisting hostesses were Mrs. Wishard, Mrs. J. Arthur Miller, Mrs. J. A. Vye, Mrs. Roberts and Mrs. George Tinsley.

Mrs. Sattler was presented a past president's pin by Mrs. Annin following a short acceptance speech by Mrs. Annin.

OLIVE LEAGUE HOLDS PROGRAM FOR VISITORS

OLIVE, May 20.—St. Paul's Walther league entertained the Senior and Junior Walther leagues of Zion Lutheran church in Anaheim at a social in the school hall Thursday evening.

After spending a few hours at games, refreshments of salad and wafers, chocolate eclair and coffee were served. Walter Meier served as toastmaster. R. H. Paulus, Jr., president of the Olive society, welcomed the Anaheim leaguers. Responses were made by Vernon Bruderly, president of the Anaheim Senior league, and Miss Marian Lohr, president of the Junior Walther league.

F. L. Carrier, teacher of drama at the Orange Union High school, was the principal speaker of the evening, and presented a dramatic reading, "The Pioneer's Story." Henry Harms and Walter Boehmer gave several numbers on the violin and piano. Brief addresses were given by the Rev. E. H. Kreidt and A. W. Schmid. The program closed with a pantomime, given by a group of the Olive leaguers.

Since the Rev. H. G. Schmelzer, pastor of Zion Lutheran church in Anaheim, was unable to be present, being confined to the hospital by a serious illness, and since John Sutherland of the Orange Union High school, could not be present, due to the accident to his son, a resolution was adopted by St. Paul leaguers to extend to them their sincere regards and sympathy.

Walter Marty, Fresno State College, failed to make the 1932 American Olympic team. He's off for a chance in 1936, for recently he leaped 6 feet 8 1/2 inches to break the world high jump record.

Anheim and Fullerton are about to consummate a significant exchange of night baseball talent.

Outfielder Randolph Bell, one-time Santa Ana, and Outfielder Wray Pomeroy, a rookie, will join Fullerton monkey-suits in trade for Shortstop Phil Schrott, who is expected to patch up Anaheim's leaky infield.

Genial Bill Leamon, sports editor of the Riverside Press, is 67. He says the first 50 years are the toughest in this business.

Dormant two years, Long Beach Poly hopes to regain the Coast Preparatory league football championship this fall. Coach Orlan Landreth has his men in training now. He starts with six veterans, Chapel and Gaffney, backs; Captain Barton, end; Parker and Jaschek, tackles; Juratsch, guards. Santa Ana and Long Beach have played four ties in the past six years.

Santa Ana Hi's Ray Cartwright is named on the Honor Roll of All-American interscholastic athletics, published in Spalding's track and field handbook, just off the press.

Word is out that "Jeff" Craven may not get that Trojan assistant coach berth after all. They say that somebody "high up" put the finger on the former Santa Ana center, even after Howard Jones went to bat for him. "Jeff" is doing film work now.

Edward Storry, of the Commercial National bank, went to school in Canada with Jimmy McLean.

Falling to graduate this June, Athlete Floyd Montgomery will return to Santa Ana high school in September, build up his credentials for entry into college in 1934. He will not be eligible for Saint football, however.

Announcer Way Middough asked Delhi fight fans to vote vocally for their preference: (1) amateur boxing or (2) professional boxing. The pros couldn't muster a peep.

National Night league fans think President George Peterkin's umpires are awful, but his guesses must be sweethearts compared to the American league variety.

Dave Melkjohn, Pomona scribner, has declared open season on Freddie Smith, who last season managed Riverside's club but returned to chores back of the catcher at the beginning of the present schedule. "Umpire Smith" explodes the irate writer, "has won more games for Riverside than the players."

Bill Ingram has changed his mind about Lawrence Lutz. The former Saint star will continue to play tackle rather than guard for California.

Bob Reid, Santa Ana automobile distributor, will attend the National Open golf tournament at North Shore Country club, Chicago, June 8-10. Lucky stiff.

Clipping the high hurdles in 15 flat and the low in 25.2, "Mush" Dunkin of Tustin won both races in a five-way invitational meet at Oregon State last Saturday. The time was good because he ran against adverse weather conditions. Dunkin set an Oregon State record of 14.7 in the highs in the Washington dual meet.

Ernie Triplett, Pacific Coast racing champion, became the first to qualify for the 500 miles automobile classic here May 20 when he averaged 117.658 miles an hour for 25 miles today. Triplett's time for 10 laps around the two-and-one-half mile track was 20 minutes, 44.82 seconds.

Tuesday's Schedule

Torrance at Santa Ana; Westminster at Whittier; Anaheim at Huntington Beach; Fullerton at Olive.

With the "first fifth" of the schedule due to end Tuesday, Torrance and Huntington Beach today were still setting a sizzling pace for National Night league ball clubs.

The leaders both won again last night, Torrance vanquishing Olive in a 10-inning pitcher's battle, 2-1, while Huntington Beach was blanking Whittier, 3-0. Westminster jumped into third place by shutting out Anaheim, 2-0.

Olive's Rudy Heman gave Torrance only four hits but lost his own game with two wild bases, the first to second base which was unproctected, and the second a wild pitch.

Olive scored in the seventh on Griffith's bunt, Heman's single, Gunther's life on an error and Hafner's fly to left.

Torrance tied it in the eighth. Alessio bunted safely. Watson doubled. Fabrigat popped to Heman who wheeled around and threw to second base with the intention of doubling Watson off second. Nobody covered the bag and the ball went out to center field, Alessio scoring.

Torrance made its winning run in the tenth after two were away. Watson tripped, scored on a wild pitch.

Party Observes Third Birthday

BUENA PARK, May 20.—Buddy Rennie, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest W. Rennie, was the honoree at a birthday party recently, when playmates gathered to celebrate his third anniversary at the Rennie home on Eleventh street. Decorations were carried out in red and white. After an afternoon of play, ice cream and cake were served to the guests.

Present were Naomi Gerlick, Bobbie Henderson, Mildred Ann Counter, Billy Counter, Dorothy Croy, Nila Ann Landell, Mrs. C. T. Landell, of Dana Point; Mrs. W. J. Rennie, of Cypress; Mrs. Glen Foster and the honoree's mother.

TUSTIN P.T.A. GARDEN AFFAIR ATTRACTS 100

TUSTIN, May 20.—With 100 guests present, a delightful garden party sponsored by the High School P.T.A. was held Thursday afternoon at the beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Watson, 124 Yorba street.

A tour of inspection of the lovely grounds surrounding the home, the fish ponds, the two aviaries and the many beautiful flowers proved enjoyable. The front lawn presented a pretty picture as the women were seated at 3 o'clock at card tables shaded by gay-colored beach umbrellas for a session of bridge and "500". Chairs were tied with bows of crepe paper in various pastel tints. More than a dozen guests found diversion solving jigsaw puzzles, while others chose to enjoy a purely social afternoon.

Checking of tallies, revealed Mrs. Perry E. Lewis and Mrs. Dorcas Alexander holding first and second high scores at bridge; Mrs. Charles Plique, high in "500" and Miss Lois Stone, first place in solving jigsaw puzzles. About 20 high school teachers arrived at 3:30 o'clock and they were grouped for a bridge contest of their own, with high score being captured by Miss Emma Held.

Pretty potted begonia plants were presented to each one making a special score.

Card tables were next spread with pretty linens and centered with low bowls of pansies which came from the flower gardens of Mrs. Cood Adams and Mrs. Otis W. Pafford. Refreshments of strawberry and vanilla brick ice cream and home-made cakes were served.

The committee in charge of arrangements for the successful benefit, which netted around $20 for the P.T.A. treasury, included Mrs. Ralph Stone, chairman; Mrs. Clarence A. Nixon, Mrs. Hugh J. Plumb, Mrs. J. Henry Pankey, Mrs. John Knox, Mrs. Owen A. Murray, Mrs. Frank H. Greenwood and Mrs. Watson, hostess.

SEWING CLASS MEETS

MIDWAY CITY, May 20.—Members of the Needle Crafters club met this week with Mrs. Russell I. Johnson at her home, 211 Van Buren street. Dessert was served by the hostess to Mesdames Gaynor, Byram Taye, J. Dale, Anna Van Steenbergh, Lillian Moesinger, Whittaker, Stone, George Luff and Miss Lillian Arnett.

GRADE PUPILS OF PLACENTIA GIVE CANTATA

PLACENTIA, May 20.—The annual spring program of the Richfield school was presented Thursday night at the auditorium of the school, with a large audience of friends as guests of the children, when the eight grades presented a "Visit to Story Land" a cantata, compiled and directed by Miss Cleo Holder and Miss Lily Hansen.

The numbers preceding the cantata included two selections by the toy orchestra, composed of 30 little people dressed in ariases and sombreros. They played "Fireflies on Parade" and "Celtic Lingo".

Grades six, seven and eight sang "My Sunshine," "Neopolitan Nights" and "Blue of the Night". Mary Morales played "Blue Danube," a waltz number, as a piano solo.

The cantata included children of all grades. The children parts were played by Esther Lemus, Danny Reyes and Eugene Rivera. A chorus of children of third, fourth and fifth grades sang a group of numbers. Rita Porras played "Fairy" and Tony Pedross played "Gingerbread Boy".

The Gingerbread chorus was made up of first and second grade little people. Alfred Castillo was "Tin Soldier" and Nellie Soza was "Dancer".

The soldier chorus was made up of third, fourth and fifth grade people. Ray Reyes was "Black Sambo," Tomasa Sabola was "Cinderella," Pieda Casas was "Fairy Godmother" and Mike Olivares was "Prince".

Dancers' chorus was made up of sixth, seventh and eighth grade people. Carmen Reymundo was "Mother Goose," Josephine Barragan was "Bo Peep", Ronald Rodriguez was "Jack and the Beanstalk," Helen Urbina was "Jill," Jackie Garcia was "Humpty-Dumpty," Margaret Olivares, Margarite Peralta and Ruth Peralta were "Three Girls," Tommy Ruiz was "Crooked Man," and Felix Rodriguez was "Tommy Tucker."

Mrs. Zella Salveson, principal of the school, Mrs. Marian Harlow and Miss Ruby Snyders were in charge of the costumes; Miss Theresa Rose was in charge of programs and Mrs. Gladys Shepherd of the stage setting, which included a background of large "book backs" portraying special characters in children's stories.

Card tables were next spread with pretty linens and centered with low bowls of pansies which came from the flower gardens of Mrs. Cood Adams and Mrs. Otis W. Pafford. Refreshments of strawberry and vanilla brick ice cream and home-made cakes were served.

The committee in charge of arrangements for the successful benefit, which netted around $20 for the P.T.A. treasury, included Mrs. Ralph Stone, chairman; Mrs. Clarence A. Nixon, Mrs. Hugh J. Plumb, Mrs. J. Henry Pankey, Mrs. John Knox, Mrs. Owen A. Murray, Mrs. Frank H. Greenwood and Mrs. Watson, hostess.

SEWING CLASS MEETS

MIDWAY CITY, May 20.—Members of the Needle Crafters club met this week with Mrs. Russell I. Johnson at her home, 211 Van Buren street. Dessert was served by the hostess to Mesdames Gaynor, Byram Taye, J. Dale, Anna Van Steenbergh, Lillian Moesinger, Whittaker, Stone, George Luff and Miss Lillian Arnett.

The Garden Grove, May 20.—A delightful 12:30 o'clock luncheon was enjoyed by members of the Missionary society of the Alamitos Friends church Thursday at the home of Mrs. W. O. Broadbent on Magnolia avenue. Members of the losing team, headed by Mrs. Lena Meyer, in a recent contest held to raise funds for missionary work, were hostesses at the luncheon to the winners of the side with Mrs. Veva Long, captain.

The tables were decorated with sweet peas in pastel shades and tall yellow tapers and nut cups of the same shade.

Following luncheon, the regular business meeting of the society was conducted by Mrs. Nettie Younger, who also had charge of the program. Devotions were led by Mrs. Estella Jones, and Mrs. Nellie Amos, Estella Jones, Winifred Shuckard, and Miss Jennie Hoover.

Members on the winning side were Mesdames Agnes Stanley, Nellie Amos, Estella Jones, Winifred Shuckard, Cora Hansler, Grace Mitchell, Camille Nichols, Nettie Younger, Hayward, Emma Kearns, Maud Barnes and Veva Long, while the other team was composed of Lena Miles, Eliza Guess, Alice Robertson, Nellie Miller, Tennie Fritcher, Nellie Benson, Effie Swazy, Grace Morgan, H. MIDWAY GROUP TOLD OF JAPAN MISSION WORK MIDWAY CITY, May 20.—Interest facts of missionary work in Japan as seen by a Japanese Christian were given in an address by the Rev. K. Kiruchi, pastor of the Wintersburg Japanese Presbyterian church at the meeting of the Midway City Nazarene missionary society Thursday afternoon.

The speaker told of his boyhood in Japan, of his schooling in a mission seminary and of his present work which he has taken up in the effort to teach Christianity to the Japanese in America and help make of them better American citizens.

The missionaries are reaching mostly the aristocrats in Japan, according to the Rev. Mr. Kikuchi, and a splendid work is being done which is greatly appreciated by the Japanese people, he said.

It was arranged at the business session to hold the next meeting of the society at the home of Mrs. Mary Stout in Huntington Beach. Mrs. Edna Robinson was hostess and attending were the speaker, the Rev. K. Kikuchi, the Rev. and Mrs. J. J. Woodson, Miss Robina Brentlinger, Mrs. Daniel Brentlinger and her sister, Mrs. B. L. Ford, of Los Angeles, who is her housekeeper; Miss Marjorie Byram, Mrs. Emma Walters, Mrs. Learl Limerick, Mrs. F. M. Florey, of Midway City; Mrs. Essie Robinson, of Oceanview; Mrs. Mary Black and Mrs. C. B. Austin, of Huntington Beach; Mrs. Elsie Stone, of Costa Mesa, and Mrs. Edna Robinson.

BOOK REVIEWS

By MARY BURKE KING

Red Virtue by Ella Winter, published by Harcourt, Brace and company.

This new book of Ella Winter's covers the wide range of morals and manners, ethics, personal relationships, art, and culture. The subtitle of the book is: Human Relationships in the New Russia.

One is reminded in reading the book of a point stressed by a recent speaker on Russia who was in Santa Ana, that one should not fall into the error of generalizing from a personal experience. This author's book is entertaining, fascinating and enlightening reading. It is a personal experience, albeit the experience of a capable, observant and sophisticated individual. Furthermore Miss Winter again and again quotes from Russian writings of this period.

Miss Winter on the frontis page quotes her husband Lincoln Steffens: "I've seen the Future—and it works!" In the preface she warns the reader to bear in mind that Soviet Russia is not a fixed and static society; it is constantly evolving, and a photograph of it at any one stage is like a still taken out of a moving picture. Many of the things which we read about Soviet Russia in the early days when we were forming our impressions of it are quite untrue today. It is hard to correct our opinions but if our thinking is to be accurate we must reorient ourselves. This book will help us to do this.

The book is one of the most important which has been written on Russia. Never before has a nation consciously attempted to redirect the manners and morals and concepts of the citizens. This is being done in Russia and outside of the book "New Minds: New Men" by Thomas Woody I do not recall that any other writer on Russia has taken up and concentrated on precisely this angle of life in Russia today.

A Philosophy of Solitude by John Cowper Powys, published by Simon and Schuster.

"The world is too much with us: late and soon
Getting and spending, we lay waste our powers.
Little we see in Nature that is ours;

We have given our hearts away,
a sordid boon."

The above words of Wordsworth are in perfect harmony with Mr. Powys' idea in this book. The author calls his book "modern handbook of contemplation under difficulties." This author believes that the art of life consists in the creation of an original and unique self and that this is something the simplest mind can achieve. He develops a philosophy of solitude and inward discipline which may be practised in the very center of life's hurly-burly.

He says that he has suffered during his life from certain de-

Modern Poets

By MISS BEULAH MAY

JAMES THOMSON

This is an old sound now seldom heard, the heavy hooves of horses striking on the cobbles of a dark city street. It is from The City of Dreadful Night.

It is full strange to him who hears and feels.

When wandering there in some deserted street,

The booming and the jar of heavy wheels,

The trampling crash of heavy ironshod feet;

Who in this Venice of the Black Sea rideth?

In this city of the stars abideth,

To buy or sell as those of day light sweet?

The rolling thunder seems to fill the sky

As it comes on: the horses snort and strain,

The harness jingles as it passes by;

The hugeness of an overburdened wain!

A man sits nodding on the shaft or trudges

Three parts asleep beside his fallen drudges:

And so it rolls into the night again.

What merchandise? whence, whither, and for whom?

Perchance it is a Fate-appointed hearse,

Bearing away to some mysterious tomb

Or Limbo of the scornful undead.

Since execution of the note $738.21 has been paid on the principal and $2017.57 on the interest leaving a balance of $2760.79 due on the principal and interest from October 16, 1931.

On July 3, 1931 Mrs. Morthland, according to the complaint delivered a mortgage deed to the loan company to secure payment of the promissory note. The judgment sought covers the $3761.79 due on the principal and other charges for a foreclosure search of the title, taxes and insurance.

FORECLOSURE SUIT NAMES SANTA ANANS

Judgment for $4224.06, foreclosure of a mortgage on property in Orange, sale of the property and a deficiency judgment if the sale of the property does not satisfy the judgment, are sought in a foreclosure suit filed in superior court today by the Western Loan and Building company. Mrs. Marie Elizabeth Morthland, B. E. Morthland, S. A. Clem and Mrs. Edith Clem are named as defendants.

GEORGE ARLISS 'WORKING MAN' ON WEDNESDAY

Fox Theater Still Closed To Patrons

Lester J. Fountain, manager of the Fox theaters in Santa Ana, was today unable to state when the Fox Broadway theater would again be opened.

The theater, which closed suddenly a week ago, because of litigation, was still dark today and will be the forepart of the week, as far as is known.

The Broadway closed its doors, when its box office was attached for a debt which the Broadway did and does not believe is a just debt, due to the fact that the debt, its owners say, is not owed by the local theater.

The trouble is thought to have started in Whittier and the attachment read for the Fox Broadway theater here. Fountain said today he had no word as to when the theater again would be open to the public.

The average time taken by a telephone operator to answer a subscriber's call is 4.8 seconds, according to official tests.

RETURNS WEDNESDAY

George Arliss, who returns to Santa Ana Thursday, to the Fox West Coast theater in "The Workingman." It is a picture which smacks of "The Millionaire," but is said to be far more inviting.

The picture, like "Adorable," was scheduled for the Fox Broadway theater and is changed to the West Coast theater during the time the Fox Broadway remains closed.

KEN MAYNARD SEEN TODAY AT WALKER'S

A forceful, old-time action picture with plenty of punch is now on the bill at Walker's State theater.

The World Wide film, "Between Fighting Men," starring Ken Maynard, deals with the tragic feud of the cattlemen of the western range and the sheep raisers.

Depicting faithfully the war fought by the cattlemen to save the grazing lands for their cattle and the fight by the shepherds to gain more grazing lands. "Between Fighting Men" is packed with thrills. Audiences at Walker's State theater are welcoming this well-made outdoor romance with hearty applause at each showing.

With Maynard are Ruth Hall, Wallace MacDonald, Josephine Dunn, Albert J. Smith, Walter Law, James Bradbury Jr., and many others.

MEMORIAL DAY EXCURSIONS

On account of Memorial Day the Union Pacific will run another of its famous "Dollar Day" excursions making very low round trip fares to points in Nevada, Utah, Wyoming, Idaho, Oregon and Washington. Tickets on sale May 26th to 30th, inclusive. Good returning until June 6th. No fare over one-way fare for the round trip—some less.—Adv.

Bride of Recent Date
Honored by Guests
At Gift Shower

A pretty post-nuptial affair honoring Mrs. Edward Storry, formerly Miss Hazel Stukey, and a bride of but three weeks, was that given Thursday evening by Mrs. Carl H. Lykke in her home, 109 East Oxford street. The game of "bride" appropriately sped the evening hours and Miss Tadlock received a prize for high score, while Miss Emma Williams and Mrs. Margaret Shell were consoled. Mrs. Storry was presented with a miscellaneous assortment of gifts which she will use in her new home, 107 West Pine street.

Guests then proceeded to the dining room, where they were grouped about one long table, centered with a beautiful spray of roses combined with maidenhair fern and baby breath. An orchid cloth covering the table was overlaid with one of dainty lace, while wisteria glass service completed the appointments. Delectable refreshments of strawberry Bavarian creme with an assortment of delectable cakes and coffee were served.

Those present in addition to the honoree and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Storry, were the Misses Peggy Padlock, Emma Williams, Beatrice Holly, Mesdames L. Nelson Visel, Margaret Shell, S. J. Swanson, and the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. Carl H. Lykke.

Variety Marks Program
Given at Pegasus
Club Meeting

A variety of talent was represented at the meeting of Pegasus club Thursday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Charles Brisco, 421 East Bishop street. The program opened with two colorful prose pictures of the desert by Mrs. Earl Morris. Mrs. Frank Lansdown gave "An Appreciation," while Mrs. Frank was followed with "The Division of the Spoils."

Mrs. Ray Brown who has been absent from the club for some time, read several original selections, and also read poems by Miss Celestia Straub of Santa Ana Junior college, including "Moonlight," "A Sister's Song," and "Spanish Translation." Mrs. Malcolm MacCurda then gave "Treasure's Reel," following by an essay by Mrs. Caleb Jackson, "A Problem," and several verses of "Peace."

Mrs. Charles Fuller presented a group of poems, "Today's Hope," "The Mountains," "My Mother," and "The Evening Song." Two clever poetic contributions by Mrs. Walter Foote, included "Oh Speckled Pig!" and "To a Desert Bird." Mrs. Charles Brisco repeated by request the animated story, "Golf Widow." C. F. Jackson, a special guest, spoke on a recent interesting radio program, while Mrs. Lynn Hart, sister of Mrs. Brisco, read two short poems she had written about the small son of the Brisco home, entitled, "A Whistler." Little Miss Barbara Brisco favored with Schubert's "The Unfinished Symphony," a juvenile translation, "Rest" and "Omnipresence" poems written by Mrs. George Bond and set to music by Mrs. Malcolm MacCurda, were sung by Mrs. Brisco, which completed a program of unusual interest and ability.

Selection of officers resulted in Mrs. Frank Was, president; Mrs. Charles Brisco, vice-president; Mrs. Charles Fuller, secretary. The next meeting to be held June 22, will celebrate the seventh birthday of Pegasus. The meeting place will be announced later. Special guests were Mrs. Peck, mother of Mrs. Brisco; Mrs. Lynn Hart and C. F. Jackson.

Beach Party Commands
Interest of Jaysee
Art Club

Corona del Mar again was the scene of a Jaysee beach party this week when members of the college art society, Alpha Rho Tau, chose it as the scene of their final party of the school term.

Swimming and climbing over the rocks claimed attention until the covered dish supper was served picnic style by various members. Beach games of a varied nature were then enjoyed.

Guests of the society were Miss Mary Jane Mitchell, Irving Cormier, Ennis Brough, Herbert Diebel, Bob Blackwood and Lee Arnold. Members present were the Misses Ruth Souder, Helen Shaw, Gertrude Chapman, Kay Patrick, Norma Kenny, Mildred Johnson, and Elizabeth Straw; Messrs. Darrel Sabin, James Simmons, Harry Yerking and Floyd Epperly.

The sketch is of a COAL MINER. The emu is native to AUSTRALIA. Cardiff is in WALES.

Ebell Speaker Comes To Club With High
Recommendations

Just at present with the prevailing interest in world affairs, it seems timely indeed that Ebell society should introduce as speaker at the club session Monday afternoon, Samuel J. Hume of Berkeley, who will address the audience on "The Square Deal in the Pacific."

As executive secretary of the California Council on Oriental Relations, Mr. Hume has achieved a reputation for wide general knowledge on all phases of the subject. In addition he has built up an enviable reputation as a forceful and witty speaker, investing the technical details of his lectures with a quiet humor that makes them doubly interesting to hear. Recent speaking engagements before Los Angeles Ebell club, Friday Morning club, and various of the men's service clubs of the Southland, have increased this enviable reputation as an entertaining and forceful speaker, all of which heightens the interest which Ebell members may feel for his appearance here.

The California council which he serves as secretary, is represented in every community of the state, with Justus Craemer of Orange, as Orange county member. Dr. Rufus Von KleinSmidt and Harry Chandler of Los Angeles, are members of the board.

Such varied interests as stage craft, world travel, and the history of dramatic literature and art, occupy Mr. Hume, who is author of various books including "Twentieth Century Stage Decorations," "Theater and School," and others. Educated at University of California, he took his Master's degree at Harvard in 1914, and has served as faculty member of University of California in addition to posts as special lecturer at University of Minnesota, Harvard, Wellesley, Radcliffe, Smith College, and other universities and schools.

Preceding the lecture, Ebell women will be entertained by a short dance program beginning at 2 o'clock, presented by the "Moreno Kiddies" of the Julia Chalk school of Music and Dancing, San Clemente. A Spanish jota, "La Nadre de Cordero," will be danced by Paul and Germaine, an Italian Gypsy dance, "La Tarantella," will follow by Beatrice; Paul and Germaine will dance "Jorobas Tapatio," and Beatrice will give the jota, "El Mais Bonito Pie."

As Ebell members and guests assemble for the 2 o'clock program they will be given opportunity to secure toothsome dishes of home-preparation, for Day Nursery board members are to preside at a cooked food sale in the clubhouse lobby.

Junior Ebell Travelers
Relate Experiences
Of Journeyings

Adopting a new plan for their May program, members of Junior Ebell Travel section saw it work to a highly successful conclusion this week when they met with Miss Mary Safley and Miss Dorothy Forgy in Miss Safley's home, 1541 East Fourth street.

The plan was that instead of hearing a talk of adventures and experiences by some traveler without the section membership, each one attending relate some personal experience of her own travels, and show curios brought from distant lands. Results exceeded ever the liveliest expectations, and tales were related of wanderings through Mexico, Alaska, India and European countries, while treasure trove was displayed in textiles, potteries, jewelry and countless other things of interest collected on such wanderings.

Election of officers resulted in the choice of Miss Nan Mead as leader; Miss Frances Egge, assistant leader, and Miss Dorothy Forgy concluded their hospitality with a refreshment course served at a late hour in the evening.

THIRD OF CARD SERIES HELD IN GARDEN GROVE

GARDEN GROVE, May 20.—A group of members of the Monday Star club entertained Thursday afternoon at the third of a series of benefit card parties in the home of Mrs. Ernest Fulsom of North Euclid avenue. The committee assisting Mrs. Fulsom consisted of Mrs. P. M. Larson, Mrs. George Lynch, Mrs. Mary Johnson, Mrs. Carl Nichols, Mrs. Mary Clark, Mrs. Emma Henry, Mrs. W. B. Merchant and Miss Clara Carmichael.

Sixteen tables were arranged for bridge. At the close of the games Mrs. Delbert Wilkinson was awarded first prize, and consolation went to Mrs. Alfred Nearing.

Bowls of sweet peas and roses were artistically arranged about the rooms, and at the refreshment hour the card tables were centered with delicate rosebuds. Strawberry short cake topped with whipped cream was served with coffee.

The lovely silk crocheted rug which will be awarded to the one holding high score for the series at the final party to be held on June 1, in the home of Mrs. A. C. Robbins, on East Ocean avenue, was exhibited.

Those present besides the hostesses were Mesdames L. A. Kessman, Nelle Young, Gladys Liebermann, Henrietta Hoteling, Margaret Sawyer, Mollie Ballard, Marr, Ethel De Wolfe, of Santa Ana; Ida Rameriz, of Buena Park; Claire Kirven and Helen Law, of Anaheim; C. PLAN DINNER FOR
BUENA PARK GRADE

BUENA PARK, May 20.—Members of the Grand Avenue P.T.A. executive board enjoyed a steak barbecue at Hillcrest park in Fullerton recently, the occasion being the last executive board meeting of this year. A business session followed the dinner, with Mrs. A. E. Rayburn presiding. The menu for the banquet, which will be given for the graduating eighth grade in the social hall of the Congregational church the evening of May 29, was planned and the various committees to be in charge appointed.

Those enjoying the evening at the park were Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Rayburn and son, Lawrence; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Corey and sons, Stanley and George; Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Kinney and son, Cecil; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hillman and daughters, Mary Jean and Shirley; Mr. and Mrs. Justin Spohn and son, Howard; Mrs. Lelia Criswell and daughter, Virginia; Mrs. Eleanor Jones, Mrs. L. A. Sophia and son, Cameron; Ronald Upton, Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Cooley and son, Frank, all of Buena Park.

LODGE LEADERS TO RESIDE AT HEMET

WESTMINSTER, May 20.—Concluding a residence of 17 years as keeper and hostess at the Westminster Gun club, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Falcke are preparing to leave the first of June for Hemet to reside.

A two and a half acre property purchased some years ago by Mr. and Mrs. Falcke has been traded by the Falckes for a walnut grove at Hemet.

Mr. and Mrs. Falcke, who are both well known in I. O. O. F. and Rebekah circles, are both past noble grands of their respective lodges in Westminster. Mrs. Falcke is just completing her year as district deputy president of Rebekahs.

A record for keepers has been made at the Westminster club, but two keepers, Falcke and Harry Mansperger, having been in charge of its organization 28 years ago.

SEAL BEACH BOARD ORDERS WEEDS CUT

SEAL BEACH, May 20.—At the regular meeting of the city council Thursday night, resolution No. 216, ordering the street superintendent to abate the weed nuisance, was passed. The council instructed the superintendent to begin work as soon as the lots to be cleaned could be marked off. Communication was received from the Bayside Land company stating that the company would clean the weeds on its holdings in Seal Beach.

After a lengthy discussion, the council instructed the city attorney, Burr Brown, to draw up a new water rate ordinance. Since the city buys its water from the city of Long Beach, then sells it to the users in Seal Beach, the rate has been much higher than in most of the nearby communities.

JAPAN STUDIED BY BUENA PARK GROUP

BUENA PARK, May 20.—Japan was the study subject at the regular meeting of the Misionary society in the social hall of the Congregational church this week. The program was arranged by Mrs. J. H. Robison, with many interesting current events given by Mrs. H. H. Haggarty, Mrs. Harry Horn, Mrs. C. E. Crumrine, Mrs. Margaret Strain and Mrs. Nellie Bastard.

Following the study period community singing was held. Mrs. Reid accompanying at the piano. Devotions were in charge of Mrs. LaRue C. Watson. It was decided that the contents of the mite boxes would be added to the regular church benevolences. The brotherhood supper for June is to be in charge of the Misionary society, it was announced.

League Head To Address Pupils

PLACENTIA, May 20.—James Walton, superintendent of the Anti-Cigarette league, will talk at the Placentia schools next Wednesday, at the Bradford school at 9 a. m.; at the Richfield school at 10 a. m. and at the Baker street school at 11 a. m.

LIKES CAMP LIFE — WESTMINSTER, May 20.—Placed in the hospital corps at March field, where he went recently as one of the quota of 200 young men joining the government reforestation group, Walter Baker is greatly pleased with his berth at the training camp, according to word received from him.

Another local man, Jess Haxton who went in the same quota to March field, is engaged in kitchen work at the camp.

REBEKAH at the WELL

The Story of Rebekah is from the Old Testament—Genesis
Chapter XXXV

WHEN Abraham was very old, he had but one more wish before he died, and that was to see his son Isaac married. So he called a faithful servant to him and said: "Swear a solemn oath that you will go back to the land whence I came and bring out a wife for my son from my own people."

Even before he had finished his prayer, there came a lovely maiden, Rebekah, along the path from the city, with her pitcher on her shoulder. The servant spoke: "Give me, I pray you, to drink." Rebekah answered: "Drink, my lord, and I will draw water for your camels also."

Then the servant took out a golden earring and adorned the maiden and went with her to her father's house. When he had stated his errand, the father and brother of Rebekah spoke: "It is the Lord's wish. She may go back with you."

Soon afterward Rebekah and her nurse and maid servants accompanied Abraham's servant back to Canaan.

And Isaac loved her greatly, and she became his wife.

MALE QUARTET TO SING OVER STATION KREG

RADIO PROGRAMS

March Slav, Opus 31, will be played by the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra during the art Tchaikovsky program over an NBC coast-to-coast network including KGO and KFSD at 7:30 p. m. tomorrow.

The quartet, known as "The Harmony Four," is composed of Clarence and Kenneth Rohr and Ed and Paul Elsner. These four Santa Ana youths won the Southern California singing championship staged by the Christian Endeavor society and have also been heard over various radio stations.

Their opening selection tonight will be "Close Harmony," a melody of the plantation. Other numbers to be vocalized by them are "Morning," "Little Irish Rose" and "Plantation."

Bob Murphy, whose new quarters at Second and Main streets, will be formally opened June 1, is confident that this evening's presentation will find popular favor with tuners-in.

KREG NOTES

Lloyd Hamren, head of the Social Science Department at the Huntington Beach high school, will be the speaker tonight on the Orange county P.T.A. broadcast to be presented at 7 o'clock. His topic will be "Citizenship."

The misfortunes and tribulations forced on Glenn Wright, Brooklyn shortstop, and how he overcame them, will be discussed tonight at 7:45 in the Baseball News broadcast. A review of big league plans and doings will also be given.

Spanish and American dance music will be broadcast by direct wire from K. P. hall from 9 to 10:30 p. m. tonight as a part of the Spanish program under direction of Senor Laurent.

"Our Precious Faith" will be the subject for the morning sermon by the Rev. Frank E. Lindgren, pastor of Calvary church, tomorrow. In the evening he will talk on "Saving Faith." The mixed quartet will sing "Room in the Heart of Jesus" during the morning service and both services will be broadcast over KREG.

Assistant Secretary of State Raymond Moley, head of the "Brain Trust," and advisor of President Roosevelt, will be the speaker on Columbia's Public Affairs Institute over KHJ from 6:15 to 6:45 o'clock tonight, instead of last night as reported in error yesterday. Mr. Moley will discuss the London Economic Conference.

SUNDAY
The bright and tuneful "Rustic Wedding" Symphony of Goldmark will be played in full as the feature of Howard Barlow's "Symphonic Hour" from 11:15 to 12 noon tomorrow over the Columbia network including KHJ.

Dorothy Gish, one of America's best known stage and screen stars, will return as guest star of the Pages of Romance drama over an NBC nationwide network including KFI at 1:30 p. m. tomorrow. Miss Gish will have the leading role in radio adaptation of Frank Condon's short story, "Arm in Arm."

A talk on "Selecting Judges" by John W. Davis, former Ambassador to Great Britain and former president of the American Bar association, at 2 p. m. tomorrow over KHJ, will bring to a close the series of discussions broadcast over the Columbia network under the auspices of the American Bar association.

How a modern means of communication came into being will be told in the Great Moments of History drama, "Samuel Morse and the Invention of the Telegraph," to be broadcast over a nationwide NBC network including KFI between 3:30 and 4 p. m. tomorrow.

The second production of the Columbia Dramatic Guild will be a dramatization of Edgar Allan Poe's thrilling mystery story, "Murders in the Rue Morgue." It will be presented over the Columbia network including KHJ from 6 to 5:30 p. m. tomorrow.

John Henry is a truthful person, until he knows he's being fooled. Then he gets angry. What he does when he is angry will be revealed in the episode of "John Henry Black River Giant" to be broadcast over the Columbia network including KHJ at 6 p. m. tomorrow.

The St. Olaf Lutheran Choir, America's pioneer a Capella choir, will be heard in a concert of sacred and secular music during a broadcast over the Columbia network including KHJ at 6:30 p. m. tomorrow.

Angelo Patri, child psychologist and educator, will discuss "Education for Little Children" during his talk to parents on "Your Child" to be heard over KHJ at 7:15 p. m. tomorrow.

THE POWER OF A BIG STICK IN RESERVE

We "take our hat off" to President Roosevelt. He is carrying on with the greatest art of combining the conservatives and the radicals of any man of whom we have recent record.

Everyone knew that credit had gone, and that credit had been our chief means of inflation during the past years. The real estate owners, the unemployed, the debtors, the farmers, probably 85 to 95 per cent of the people were thoroughly convinced that some radical inflationary method was imperative.

There were those who wanted the free coinage of silver on some basis; some who wanted the reduction of the gold dollar; some who wanted the purchase of bonds through government currency, and thereby saving interest. There were those who wanted to conduct a great government works project, and pay for it by the issuance of currency instead of bonds, thereby saving interest, until such time as it might be wise to reduce the currency. The President reached out his mighty arms and said: "I am in favor of you all. Frame a measure giving the President the power to do all or any of these things. Everything will come out all right."

The bill was framed, it was passed. A few people gasped, and the wheels went on. A similar situation prevailed in special industries like the railroads, the farms, and oil, and measures granting unheard-of powers to the President or his appointees were granted, and the Congress went on to other things.

In respect to inflation, the least that was expected was that the President would purchase at least three billion dollars of short-term securities, saving interest, and to that degree inflating. But nothing of the kind. After all has been said and done it appears now there will be no purchase of securities, the public works which propose to put millions of men to work will be paid for, not out of currency issued by the government, but by bonds bearing interest by the government. Instead of inflation, as was expected, it is the same old program.

It does not look as though there would be a guarantee of bank deposits, though the government seems determined to support and protect the member banks of the Federal Reserve, which were permitted to open following the holidays. But in spite of these limitations, strange things have happened.

Business has begun to pick up. Prices have begun to rise. Labor has begun to be employed. And it may be very possible that the President's action has generated the confidence of the people in him and in his program to such an extent that they started going up with him, in the thought that he was going to bring it out all right. And as they proceed, things are developing and business is increasing.

As in the story of the seven lepers "as they went they were healed." If the people go on, at least temporarily, business problems will be solved. But after all, it must be remembered the President has the power in these various directions, and he declares himself ready to use it if conditions require. This may be the secret of the whole affair.

GENERAL PROPOSITIONS FOR CONSIDERATION JUNE 27TH

On June 27th a most important state election will be held. Many measures, presenting various problems to the people, will then be before us for approval or disapproval. These will be discussed at more or less length during the days between now and the 27th.

Among these propositions is the race track gambling, which the people have repudiated twice at the polls, which the governor vetoed, and which the legislature seems to insist that the people must have, whether they want it or not. Another is the transfer of gas tax funds to pay interest and principal on state highway bonds.

There is a change in our taxation set-up, proposing to return the utilities to the county tax rolls, as they were formerly; the selection of delegates to the state convention for passing upon the repeal of the 18th amendment; the unemployment bond issue of some $20,000,000; the exemption of private non-profit schools from taxation, which are now being taxed, though at present saving the state some costs; permitting reassessment of earthquake damaged property, so that taxes would not have to be paid on losses; the assumption by the state of some $55,000,000 of bonds of irrigation districts where losses are being incurred, and a number of others.

The voters should devote their attention to a consideration of these various positions during the coming weeks, that they may vote intelligently and for the public good. And, above all, that they shall vote with preparation.

TOO MUCH MONEY FOR HIGHWAYS

Either the gas tax should be reduced in California, or part of the proceeds should be used for other purposes than highways, in order to save the taxpayer expenditure. While we of California can boast of our highways, we certainly cannot boast of any business-like method of building these highways, or of developing them.

Wherever one drives over the highways of the state, his attention is called not far distant to another—the "old road," which was perfectly good, possibly needed a little repairing here and there, maybe the grade is a little sharper, and the turns a little more frequent. But the road was adequate, wonderfully fine, beautiful, even more picturesque than the new one, and the shameful waste of literally millions of dollars abandoned for the building of a new road.

There is no business corporation in the world that would carry on its work in this way. You can only find a combination that will do this among the cement people, the automobile people, and our legislators. If there is any moral obligation to confine the use of this gas tax money to highways, then there is an equal moral obligation to reduce the amount of the gas tax. To grant the expenditure of public money larger in amount than the exigencies in the case demand, invites waste, multiplies burdens and breeds an entire misconception of the nature and the use of public funds.

Capital investment means nothing to this group. In fact it seems that the inducements for building a different road, or additional road, or widening the road, or adding to the highways are such sweet music to those who have it in charge, and influenced apparently by those who will benefit by it, that the taxpayer's interest, economy and business sense are entirely lost sight of. Under the stress of present conditions, instead of additional highways being a badge of honor, they are a badge of disgrace.

The gas tax is a sales tax. Large amounts of money are raised by it. If this is to be taken from the pockets of the people who are the taxpayers, certainly instead of needless and extravagant highways being built, their burdens should be relieved in other directions where public expenditure is a necessity.

There is a strange combination somewhere. "Buck-passing" of the responsibility for doing this is the great indoor sport. We predict a rebellion upon this proposition one of these days.

It is hard to say which is worse for an automobile, a loose tire or a tight driver.

NEIGHBORS AND FRIENDS

Germany's neighbors seem to feel much the same toward the Hitlerites as do people farther away. In Cleveland the other day Rabbi Stephan S. Wise addressed an anti-Nazi mass meeting of ten thousand people.

The Swiss Federal Council forbade the wearing of Hitlerite and other political uniforms and insignia in Switzerland. Swiss violators may be punished by fine or imprisonment and foreigners by deportation.

A delegation of German officials, the Bavarian Minister of Justice Dr. Hans Frank, the president of the Prussian diet, Hans Kerl, and the Bavarian State Secretary, Dr. Freissler, when they arrived in Vienna by airplane the other day were informed by a police official that their visit was not desired. Nevertheless they delivered party speeches before five thousand Nazis in a Vienna suburb.

There are situations in most countries of the world of such a nature that the people are willing to support anything or anyone that can make any system function well enough to relieve the worst misery of the people. When that is relieved the people will become more critical of systems and demagogues.

Inverted Mountains in The Floor of Oceans

—San Bernardino Sun—
Captain C. B. Mayo, commanding the U. S. naval oil tanker Ramapo, recently reported finding a new deep in the bed of the Pacific which is only 1200 feet less than the greatest known depth. It is a trench in the ocean's floor near the coast of Japan, directly across the Pacific from San Diego. By repeated use of the sonic depth finder a depth of 33,000 feet was measured.

The floor of the ocean generally resembles a rolling plain. It averages less than 14,000 feet below sea level. The trenches which extend to such great depths are like inverted mountain ranges. They drop off sharply from the ocean bottom. A number of them have been located, the greatest being northeast of Mindanao Island in the Philippines, with a depth of 34,220 feet. The deepest charted trench in the Atlantic is off Puerto Rico and has been measured at 27,972 feet.

These trenches compare very well with the 29,000 feet of Mount Everest, highest mountain in the world. From Everest's crest to the lowest point measured in the ocean's floor there is a span of 12 miles.

Man has soared above the topmost peak of the earth's crust. He has gone only a little distance beneath the sea. The seismic disturbances which have created mountains and ocean valleys have given him interesting subjects for scientific study and observation, but they have not interfered greatly with his more or less humble routine.

Salute!
—Christian Science Monitor—
Any governor of a state who does not get a couple of extra blasts the next time he is eligible for a salute should file a complaint with the army and navy authorities. Short-changing a governor is a serious offense.

Recently revised regulations regarding salutes, plain, fancy and otherwise, raised the salute of governors from seventeen to nineteen guns. This action may have been a sort of forerunner to the inflation movement or just a desire on the part of ammunition makers to prevent overproduction.

In the past most governors have expressed themselves as abundantly honored by seventeen guns which, at the average county fair, generally have occupied pretty much an entire afternoon and sometimes ended in darkness or an explosion of the little brass cannon.

There had been no outspokn complaint, but it was whispered that cabinet members had been getting two more guns than governors and the rumor undoubtedly led to the effort to "balance the salute." This inflation of the salute, however, should not be carried too far. It might result in a cry to get off the presidential standard and let the salute find its own level.

More Truth Than Poetry

WASTED EFFORT

It is reported that after many laboratory experiments hens have been made to crow.

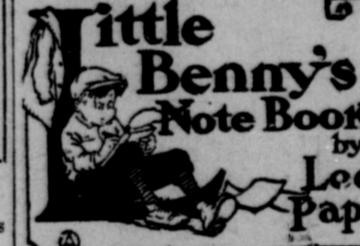

Though scientists, past any doubt, deserve unstinted praise, I often fail to ferret out their shrill and baffling ways. I may be wobbly in the brain. But still I'd like to know what benefit they hope to gain by teaching hens to crow.

The rooster in my neighbor's coop At morning's earliest tide Emits a shrill and strident whoop Which echoes far and wide, And shortly dozens of his kin, With all their might and main, Unite to swell the horrid din Till hope or rest is vain.

Now just suppose, when day arrives To gem the lawn with dew, Each bull-voiced rooster's plural wives Should fall to crowing too. We'd have to burrow in our beds At morning's earliest peep, And wrap the pillows round our heads Till bid farewell to sleep.

If scientists desire to gain The praises of all men, From meddling with the hen, And plan to toil, day after day, Till, in the years to come, They shall have figured out a way To render roosters dumb.

I was taking my puppy Junior for a walk on account of him needing exercise and me being the one that's suppose to give it to him, and Shorty Judge was sitting on his front steps by himself, me saying, Hello Shorty, have you still got that?

What such a dirty child. Look at your hands. And your face is just as bad. You should be ashamed of yourself to get like this. I told you to keep yourself clean. You are a very naughty child and I shall just have to send you to bed.

Why such a fuss about a little dog? It will wash off. By and by the child will want to keep clean and will do so, to a reasonable degree without such drastic measures.

A child it is only when he is neglected for days on end that dirt becomes a serious matter.

Meening the half a dollar his ant gave him when he stayed at her house last Saturday and Sunday, and Shorty said, I still got it all right.

G. you going to keep it all your life? I said, and he said, No, I'm liable to spend it any day now, all I need's a good idea.

Well G, I can tell you a good one, I'll sell you a intrist in this dog for half of it, I said, and Shorty said, Do you mean a half intrist and I'll be aloud to keep him half the time and you keep him the other half?

Like fun, a half intrist, good nite, do you think I'm crazy? I said, and Shorty said, Well you want half of my half a dollar, don't you? Half and half, what do you want fairer than that? he said.

Well G wizzickers what's half of a half a dollar, it's a quarter, so I'll give you a quarter intrist in Junior for it, I said. I'll give you his hine quarter, that's the quarter he shakes to prove he's glad to see people, and I'll tell the fellows so everybody will know every time he shakes your quarter intrist, I said.

Nothing doing, Shorty said, and I said, Well hay, wait a minit, listen, there's a extra special list goes with it, you can have the priviledge goes with it, you can have the priviledge of coming around to my house once a week and giving him a bath.

Thanks just a same but I gave a dog a bath once and he wouldn't keep still a second and I was exhausted for the rest of the day, Shorty said. Being the way I generally feel after I wash Junior, and I said, O well, all rite, if you don't want to I'm not going to coax him.
